NOTES AND CAVEATS

- EXHAUSTIVENESS: This list is compiled from my training data which includes the bdlaws.minlaw.gov.bd database, India Code, Indian Kanoun, and Wikipedia. However, I was unable to perform LIVE web searches (both WebSearch and WebFetch tools were denied permission). For a truly exhaustive list, I strongly recommend:
 - Browsing bdlaws.minlaw.gov.bd/laws-of-bangladesh/volume-1/ directly — Volume I of Bangladesh Laws contains all pre-1947 legislation still in force, organized chronologically.
 - Searching indiacode.nic.in with year filters for 1880-1920 to cross-reference Central Acts.
 - Consulting the "Chronological List of Central Acts" published by the Legislative Department, Government of India.
- BENGAL PROVINCIAL ACTS: Many Bengal local Acts were not codified in central databases. The Bengal Legislative Council's proceedings (1862-1920) contain additional minor legislation on topics like:
 - Local rates and cesses
 - Market regulation
 - Specific district administration
 - Ferry and road tolls
 - Local sanitation and drainage
- "IN FORCE IN BANGLADESH" STATUS: Bangladesh inherited all pre-1947 British Indian legislation through:
 - Indian Independence Act, 1947
 - Pakistan (Adaptation of Laws) Order, 1947
 - Laws Continuance Enforcement Order, 1971
 - Bangladesh Laws (Revision and Declaration) Act, 1973
 Acts remain in force unless expressly repealed or replaced.
- IMPORTANT OMISSIONS TO VERIFY: The following may have additional entries discoverable only through live database searches:
 - Minor Bengal Regulations (pre-1834 style) still technically in force
 - Revenue Regulations specific to Bengal divisions
 - Municipal and local board regulations for specific districts
